Many months of work were ahead of these men at this stage in the construction of the College Union Building.

As the College Union building neared completion, students became eager for the day they could use it.

Years of Planning Become Tangible

The construction of the College Union building is one of the major steps in the Decade of Development. In the plans are a Fine Arts building and a Science Center. Commons will no longer stand. Seniors will miss out on the use of the Union, although they did have their banquet in the new cafeteria.

Busily filling out forms, freshmen have many more registrations to look forward to.

Registration Begins Year for All Students

One of the many things necessary to initiate freshmen into college life is registration. All at once, a new student finds himself in a line outside Chapel hall. This line is only the first in a series of lines he'll have to go through in about an hour. Soon registration—and other aspects of campus living—becomes almost automatic, and by the senior year, one wonders at all the confusion encountered as a freshman.

Members of the departments of religion and philosophy await students who will sign class lists.

Frosh Debbie Klaus, Jeannie Adams, and Gail Hafner receive instructions from coach "Spud" Owen.

Upperclassmen complete first steps in the process of registration.

Upperclassmen Struggle for First Place in Annual Tug-of-War

Big and little sisters mingle at the Women's Union picnic in Wilder Park.

Women's Union Introduces College to Frosh

Karen Maronn serves foot-long hotdogs to Marty Krage and Sally Tucker while Phyl Maack and Kenvi Sheehan help themselves to potato chips.

Dr. Herman Ogren works with students in the biology lab period.

Lab assistants Marcella McLester and Fred Young prepare equipment for use by various classes.

Study Carries

Jerry Kupperschmidt relaxes while studying in his Niebuhr hall room.

Preparing for teaching, Maryann Helt and Lynne Price consult many resources.

Over from Classroom to Other Campus Areas

Many find that the library is the best place to study and spend several hours a day here.

President Robert Stanger receives an introduction to the speech clinic from Sherry Demlow, speech major.

'Open House Makes Work of Speech Clinic Known

Interested parents get tips from Sue Kokes, who led a demonstration at the speech clinic's open house.

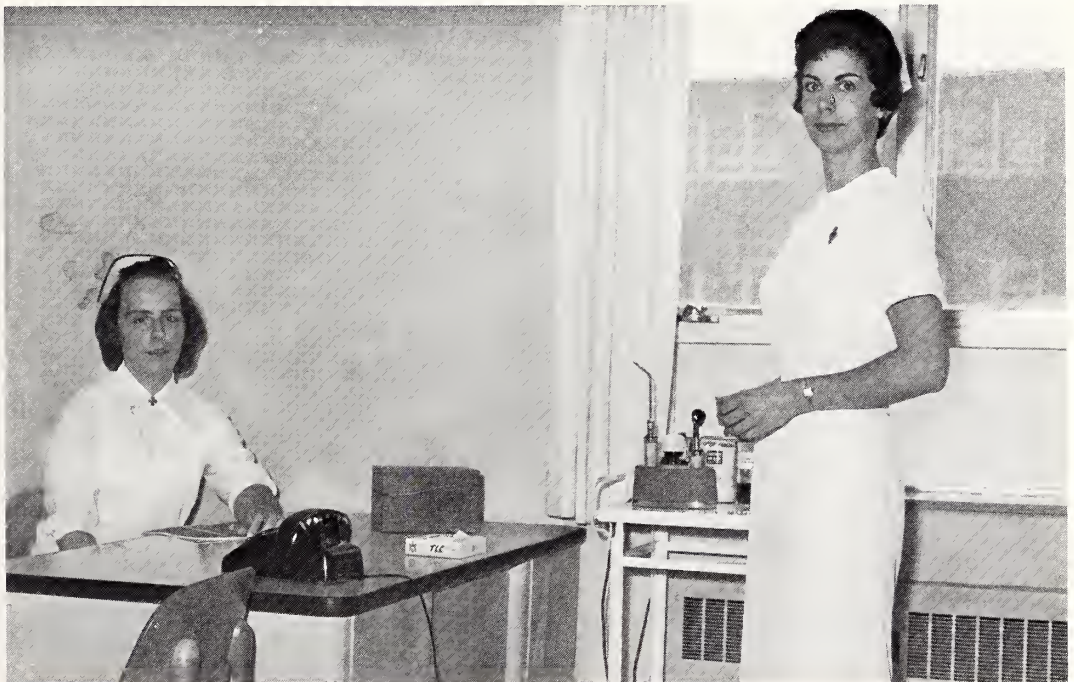

College Health Service Benefits All Students

The college physician, Dr. Samuel Lewis, has his college headquarters in Niebuhr basement.

Judith Reichhold, head nurse, and Mavis Grant, assistant nurse, help students stay healthy.

Familiar Sights

Wilder Library is frequented by many Elmhurst students who seek material in addition to that available at the campus library.

Since the college student's work is never done, he is lucky to have facilities which accomodate themselves to his needs; such as this laundromat that never closes.

Greet Students During Walks Through Town

Elmhurst students can be found in all corners of the town. Many cluster in the laundromats or "31," the favorite spot for ice cream. Others seek entertainment, in Elmhurst at the York theater or Elm Bowl, or in Chicago, many traveling there by commuter train. For refreshment, some go to Paradise—restaurant, that is. The Village Lantern, Cottage Hill and Keelers are other havens for the hungry college crowd.

Stepping out of "31" flavors, Ed. Wojnarowski and Rich Greenwood appear delighted with their choice of ice cream.

Homecoming plans evolve as committee members Marcella McLester, Mr. Oliver Langhorst, Mr. Roy Gieselmann, Wilma Ruhl, Karen Maronn and Bruce Hansen discuss the big weekend.

Varied Activities Add Life to Elmhurst's

Ruth Folk looks astonished at the sight of so much food. The occasion is the Thanksgiving dress-up dinner in Commons.

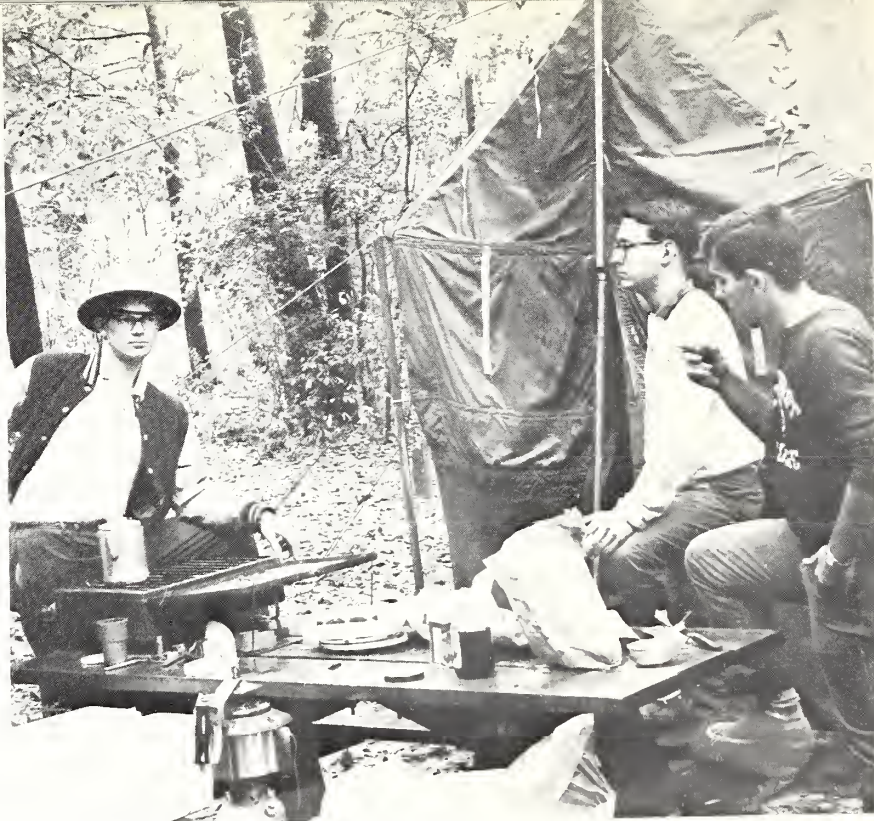

Campus

Gathered around Elmhurst's replica of the St. Louis arch are some of the many students from this city, ready to celebrate its bicentennial.

Thoughtfully listening and discussing are SGA presidential hopefuls Bob Schantz and Dave Dickbernd.

Students cook on a field trip at the Michigan dunes.

Well-Rounded Students Combine Study and Fun

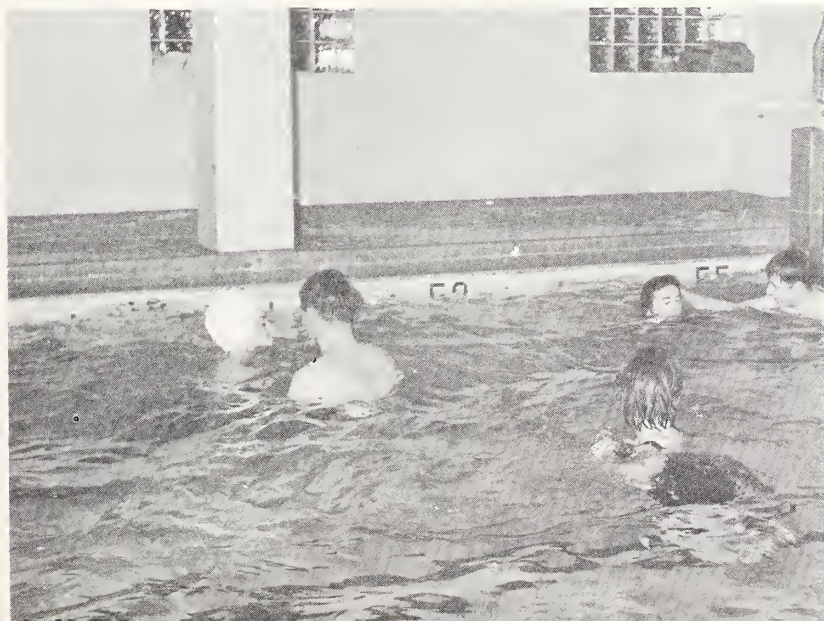

Sandy Centner proves her ability at cheerleading tryouts.

Tired but victorious football team members are given an enthusiastic welcome home from their fans.

Swimming in the pool located in the basement of the gym offers relaxation to the busy students.

Freshmen Bill Oelhafen and Dave Stark are engaged in a yearly chore—removing paint from the lights at Homecoming time.

Warm Weather Keeps Students Out on Campus

Putting a shine to a lucky student's car are some ambitious E club members.

In spring, the mall suddenly becomes filled with students playing ball. Here, Jerry Kupperschmidt tears away from his opposition, hoping to score.

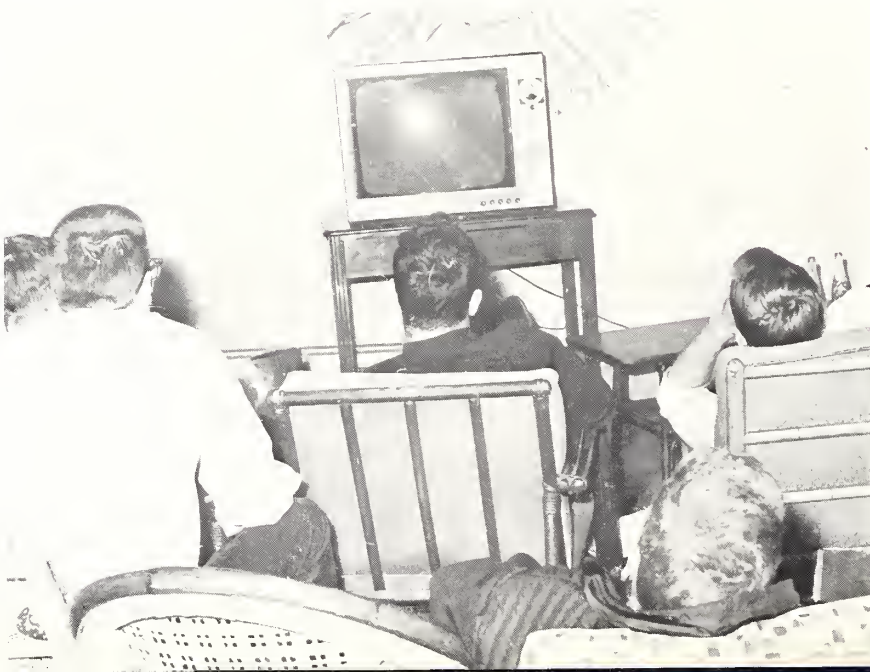

A Chicago Sunday paper is shared in the lounge by men of Niebuhr hall.

Provide Relaxation and Recreation

Linda Tschopp, Aurie Weislo, Bob Kleck, and Marchan Carney use Niebuhr's lounge for card-playing.

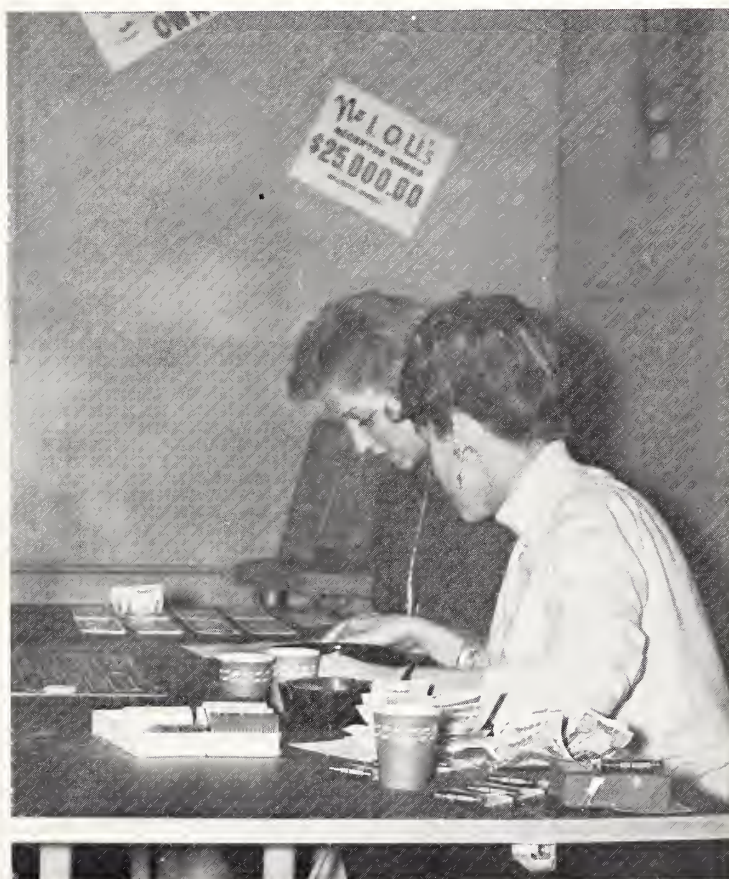

Lane Dennis watches Jan Bollman hum to accompaniment at the hootenanny held in Dinkmeyer Lounge.

Both Elmhurst students and young people not from the college perform at the entertaining program in Dinkmeyer.

Annual Spring

Members of the College Choir gather in front of Dinkmeyer with friends before their departure for Texas and other parts.

Accompanist Dianne Reschke and Gleeman Jerry Suhrheinrich proudly display the Club's sign.

Tours Take Choirs to Texas, Wisconsin, Washington, D.C.

The Campus loses a sizable percentage of its population in the spring, when the choirs and Theatre go on tour for a week. Elmhurst College was represented from Dallas to Baltimore this past spring. Many students are recruited during tour, when they can learn more about the college from members of the various groups.

Rather than stuff telephone booths, Polyhymnia girls see how many they can seat on a cannon at Gettysburg.

Marjory Hurtel timidly approaches John Pantermuehl in another scene from the play.

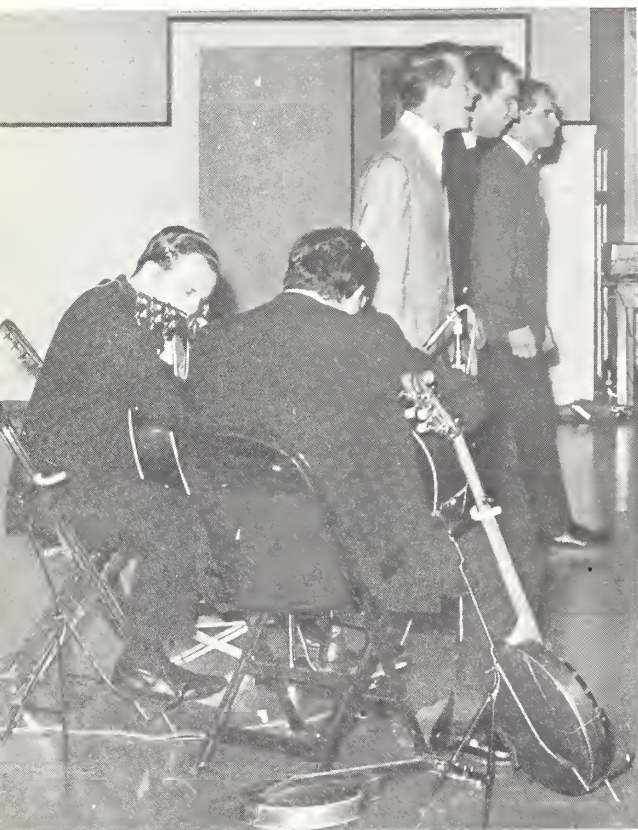

Two characters from "Period," Marti Fischer and Bill Rabiega, enact a Christmas scene.

Roving reporter Sue Schnell interviews Chad Mitchell at the reception following the concert.

Good accompaniment helped make listening to the Chad Mitchell Trio even more enjoyable.

Social Life

Chad Mitchell

Folk music again was featured in the Social Life special concert this spring. The Chad Mitchell trio entertained for almost two hours. Afterwards, there was a reception in Chapel hall, when many students met trio members personally. The evening was very enjoyable, and for it, special thanks go to Sandy Hopkins, who headed the committee that arranged for the trio to come.

Standing with the trio are special events committee members Dot Allrich, Sandy Hopkins (chairman) and Mary Beth Kirby.

Committee Brought the Trio to Campus

Each member of the trio, in addition to his part in the group, also held his own on solo parts.

"Fairy Fales" was the title of the clown skit at the Women's Union circus big-top show.

Thrills were provided by N. Austin Y.M.C.A.'s trampoline act.

"I Wanna Hold Your Hand," wail the Versatiles in excellent imitation of the Beatles at the Campus Chest variety show, "The Purple Elephant Revue."

A Beauty Shop Quartet, composed of Irma Holub, Becky Martin, Joanne Preuss and Sandy Schaefer, sings sweetly at the Revue.

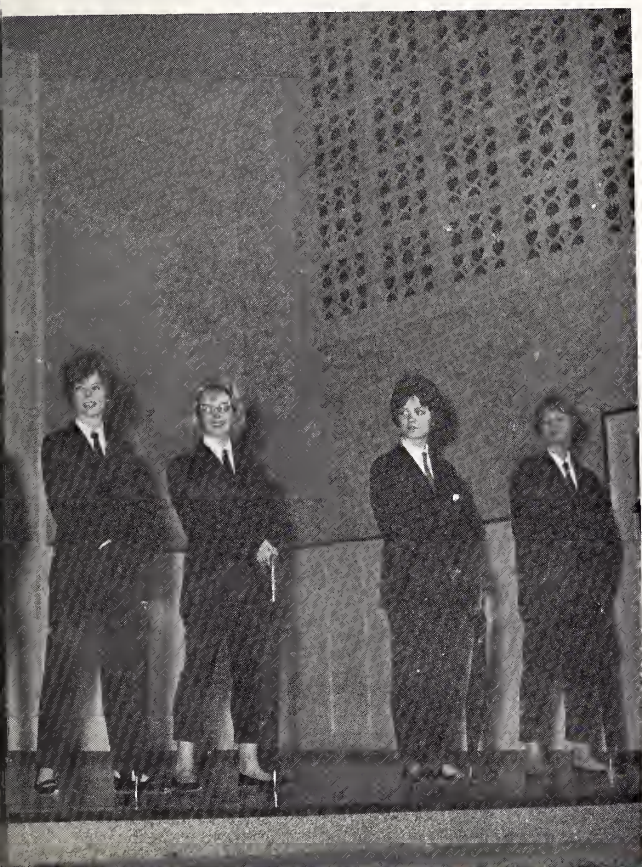

Funds Are Raised for Foreign Students by Talented Performers

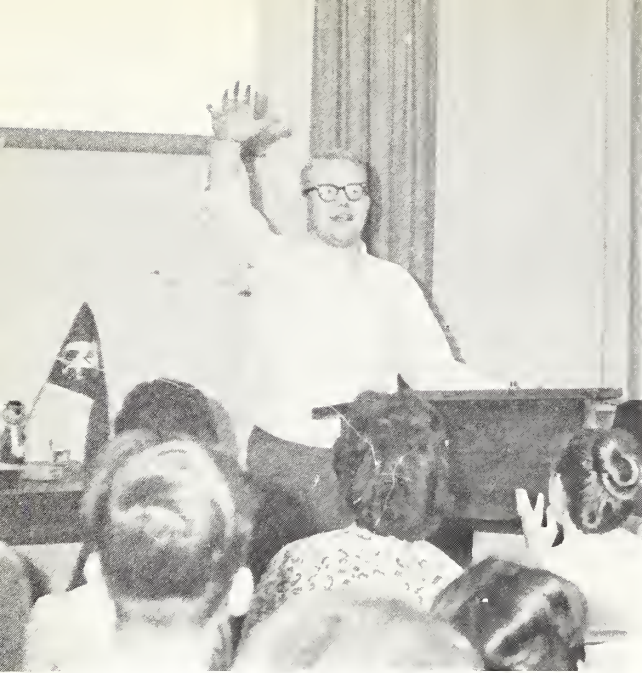

Bravely trying to recite "The Thip (by me)," Vinni Wheeler finally breaks down into tears.

"Beautiful," Harold Schippits is admired by his "masculine" friends during their rendition of the popular hit, "Hello, Dolly."

Supported by a chorus (not pictured), Ruth Hotz sings "I Love Paris."

Auction and Car Smash Draw Enthusiastic Donors

"Do I hear $3?" asks auctioneer Gary Miller, who helped bring in $100 for campus chest.

Proceeds of the Campus Chest drive will go to a foreign student on campus. Many events are held to raise money: a slave day, faculty-Amazon basketball game, room clean, auction and variety show ("The Purple Elephant Revue") The service fraternity held a car smash and reverse slave day, proceeds going to the fund. Money raised by these events was awarded to foreign students Bob Hoo and Richard Nyako.

Joe Fraccaro vindictively clubs an already beat-up car at the car smash held for campus chest by the service fraternity.

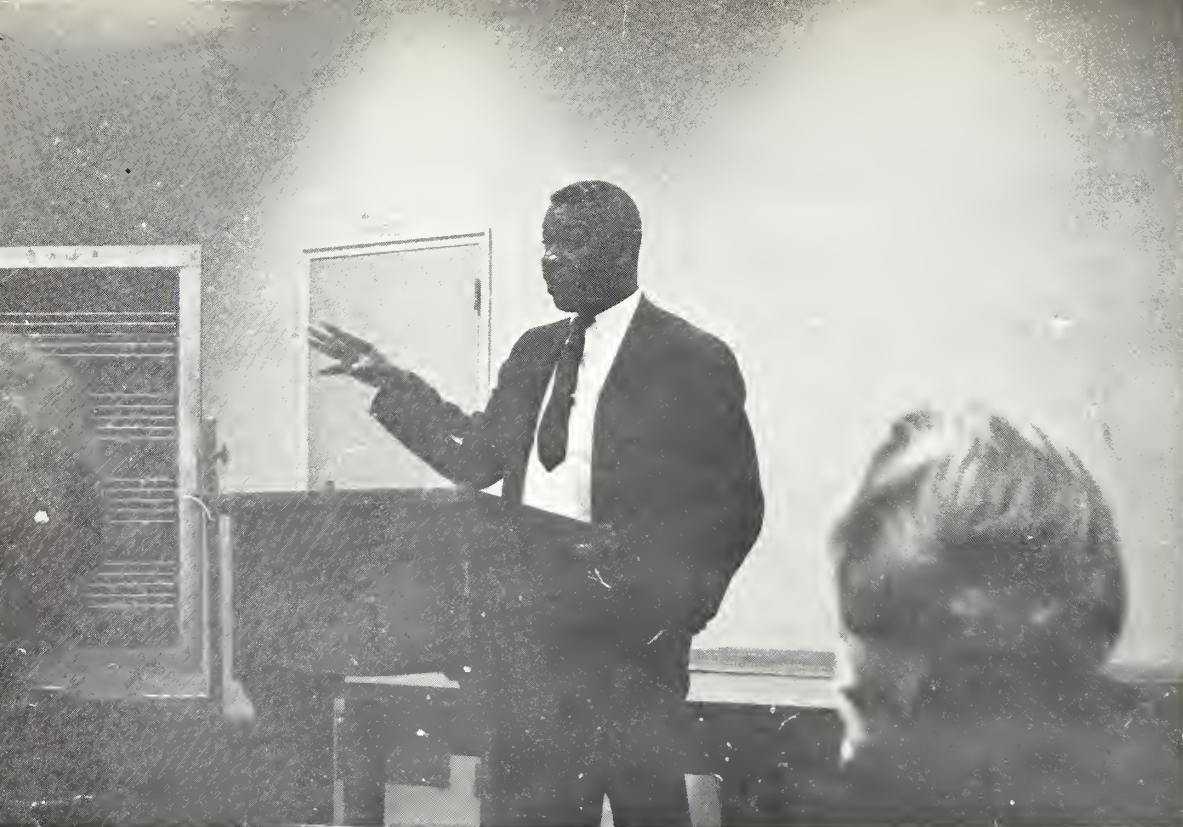

Diptiman Sengupta, Theresa Dupigny-Leigh, Gilles d'Aigremont and Bob Hoo are four of the foreign students on campus this year.

Elmhurst Attracts Young People from Many Lands

Foreign students answer questions at a Senate "Agora" while chairman Paul Anderson looks on.

Students come to Elmhurst not only from many parts of the country, but from all parts of the world. American students learn much from their world neighbors. This year, some of the foreign students held an "International Hootenanny," at which they sang and danced numbers native to their homelands.

One of the guest speakers leads an afternoon discussion group in Chapel hall.

Lecture Series, Agora Bring Varied Speakers to Campus

Carter Davidson was one of the lecture series speakers who spoke on Africa.

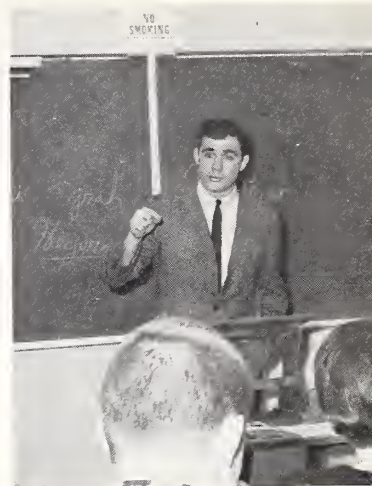

An excellent topic and three outstanding speakers made this year's lecture series one which was praised from all corners of the campus. The topic centered around Africa. Lecturers included Dr. St. Clair Drake, Stringfellow Barr, and Carter Davidson.

Democratic candidate for Congress Jerome Ziegler waits for questions to be addressed to him.

An Agora program brought Indiana University Young Socialist Tom Morgan to campus.

Clifton De Berry, Socialist Workers candidate for president, also spoke at an Agora.

Foreign aid was the topic on which Stringfellow Barr lectured.

Rev. Dietrich Wewerke, one of five German pastors touring American colleges and universities, answers questions in Dinkmeyer lounge.

One of the most excellent and entertaining assemblies was provided by the husband-wife piano team of Dallas Weekley and Nancy Arganbright.

Campus and Guest Talent Perform in Assemblies and Recitals

Shakespeare readings by faculty members, pantomime, piano duetists, chamber music, and oral interpretation were some of the assembly programs presented on various Monday mornings throughout the year. Faculty and guest speakers led the campus in weekly Wednesday morning chapel services.

Lois Bewley, member of the First Chamber Dance quartet that performed in the fall, appears as an object in space during one of the numbers.

During Religion in Life week, a religious art festival was held. Various art objects, made by faculty, students, and townspeople, were displayed in the Chapel narthex.

“Our World—Our Response” Religion in Life Week Theme

Stimulating much thought throughout Religion in Life week was Mr. William Stringfellow, New York attorney who spoke on “Our World—Our Response.” Highlights of the week were a play, “Zoo Story”; a discrimination day and a religious choral drama, “Circle Beyond Fear.”

William Stringfellow speaks to a gathering in Chapel hall.

The impressive recessional at Convocation is led by Chuck Lockyear and Dale Speckman.

After the opening convocation, students go to their first classes of the year.

By pulling the curtains in front of the altar, the Chapel can be used for secular purposes.

In

Memoriam

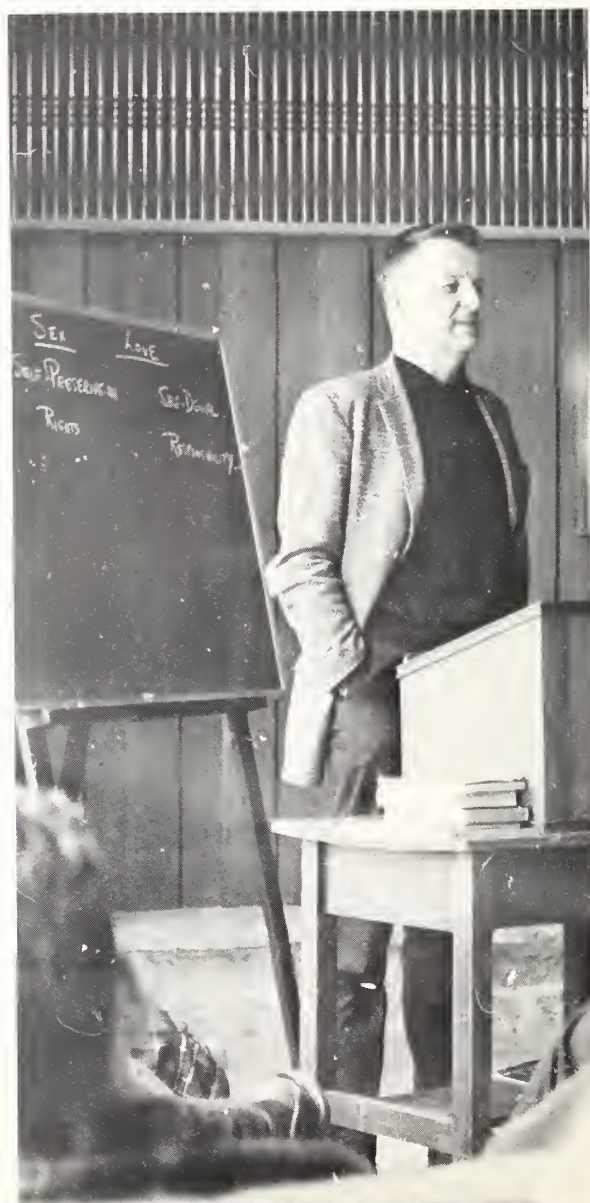

Boarding the bus headed for Green Lake, Wisconsin, are some anxious retreaters.

The difference between sex and love is explored by the group led by Rev. Robert Bradbury.

With a sigh of relief upon the completion of finals in January, many E C'ers went North to the retreat at Green Lake, Wisconsin. Leading the discussion on "Loving" was Rev. Robert Bradbury of Chicago. Despite the lack of snow, retreaters reported an enjoyable weekend, including in addition to discussions, a hike, a movie ("Room at the Top") and a soccer game.

Without the usual snow to slow them down retreaters hike along at a brisk pace.

Retreaters Delve into the Meaning of Loving

"Roamin' Holiday" Theme Dominates Gala Homecoming

The Commuter float, "Roamin' Regal Recess," was awarded first place trophy for the third consecutive year.

Niebuhr men prepare Jay for their second place float "Let's Rome All Over Them." Dinkmeyer Hall took third place with their Australian float "Knock 'em Down Under."

Weekend

Capped by a football victory over Illinois College and a student-written and produced play, this year's Homecoming proved to be one of the finest. Events began Friday with registration and came to an end with the worship service in Chapel Sunday. Other activities included the alumni reception, Glee Club reunion, seminars conducted by Dr. Clark and Dr. Halfter, class reunions, the alumni banquet and business meeting, and the dance, held this year on campus. The weekend was extended an extra day with President Stanger's announcement that there would be no classes on Monday to celebrate the football victory.

Winter Brings Out Earmuffs and Christmas Spirit

Christmas is a time of merriment, starting on campus and carrying over to student's homes during vacation. Commons takes on a festive air when the dress-up dinner is planned. Music fills the air; from very early in the morning as the Polyhymnia girls sing in dormitory halls, until later in the evening, during the candlelight service in Chapel. The Women's Union Christmas tea provides a chance for women students to meet and socialize with faculty wives. Parties abound, from private dorm parties to the big student government party in Dinkmeyer. The spirit of Christmas is evident throughout the campus.

Elmhurst coeds shop early for Christmas gifts.

Poly members Ruth Juengling, Linda Benzel, Sandy Schaefer, Judy Kehl, Linda Nelson, Donna Wartenbe, Dotty Allrich and Mary Jo Schmitt shiveringly fill the air with Christmas music.

Choral Groups

Getting smart, the Glee Club moves indoors to carol.

Bluejays Make History—

COACHES: Neal Blum, Wendall Harris (Head Coach), Lee Clausen.

Seven victories, one defeat ... Team effort and individual performances at each game ... Gained nation-wide publicity in small college circles ... New Head Coach Wendall Harris along with assistant coaches Blum and Clausen planned victorious strategies throughout season ... QB Denny Hotle completes 40 out of 78 pass attempts good for 647 yards and 16 touchdowns and 6 conversions—new record ... E Ted Rodgers catches 8 touchdown passes—new record ...

Best Season Since 1929

Pomrehn and Peterson blitz Illinois College fullback.

Broke school scoring record by tallying 248 points; average of 31 per game ... Another record was an average of 319.2 yards of total offense ... New mark of 37 touchdowns ... The departure of five seniors—HB Dean Hackett from Elmhurst, a running star; T. Glen Pomrehn of Chicago Heights, a “steam-roller” on the line; E Tom Riess from Elmwood Park, a leader in interceptions; G Paul Kalkbrenner from Cincinnati, a consistent, dependable watchdog on defense; and C Don Taylor from Warsaw, an experienced anchor of the hard charging wall will leave a gap that will be difficult to fill. Their contribution to the winning season is immeasurable and they will be remembered as long as Elmhurst fields a football team.

DEFENSIVE TEAM: Jim Driskill, Rodger Miller, Gary Miller, Dennis Peterson, Phil Cargill, Glen Pomrehn, Dick Kroll, John Neuse, Tom Riess, Ron Teed, Paul Litzinger.

Senior men finished season with good records . . . Ken Spiroff led team with B.A. of .321, 20 hits and 2 H.R., along with some excellent pitching; Dave Bowers had B.A. of .292 and played well in right field; Steve Grande had B.A. of .227 and led team in R.B.I.'s with 10; and Ralph Cooper held all honors in his pitching duels with an E.R.A. of 1.23 . . . Needless to say these men will be greatly missed, but without efforts of fellow teammates the Jays would have been left scoreless.

Ehlinger swings hard against Aurora pitcher.

Action from the Bench

Grande scores on a close play at home.
